

A MILLION DEGREES

Co-writer: Patricia Gesmondi

While making love to you
All I hear Is your breath
As I taste your sweet taste
Swallow your love deep within your soul
Trying to devour All you give and hold

Beating to the sounds of a heart
Pulsating on the outside
Feeling it in every body part
Thermometers explode on the inside

So hot, so hot, burning up 1,000,000 degrees
So hot, I love, seeing you getting deeply pleased

Caution from the overload
The red light is out
Proceed to the next level
Extreme delight
Fulfilled by grabbing a pillow
To hide the screams
From flowing out the window.

Beating to the sounds of a heart

Tender sweat
Flows from your face
As the fan cools the air
You exhale blood back in your veins
A moment fading away
To a place of pleasurable pain.
